Subject to the requirements and restrictions set forth in this section, ~~if the crime is a felony or if a person convicted in this State of a misdemeanor has broken the terms of his probation or parole,~~ reimbursements for expenses shall be paid out of the State treasury on the certificate of the Governor. ~~In all other cases, such expenses or reimbursements shall be paid out of the county treasury of the county wherein the crime is alleged to have been committed according to such regulations as the board of county commissioners may promulgate.~~ In all cases, the expenses, for which repayment or reimbursement may be claimed, shall consist of the reasonable and necessary travel expense and subsistence costs of the extradition agent or fugitive officer, as well as the fugitive, together with such legal fees as were paid to the officials of the state on whose governor the requisition is made. The person or persons designated to return the fugitive shall not be allowed, paid or reimbursed for any expenses in connection with any requisition or extradition proceeding unless the expenses are itemized, the statement of same be sworn to under oath, and shall not then be paid or reimbursed unless a receipt is obtained showing the

1 amount, the purpose for which said item or sum was expended, the place, date and to 2 whom paid, and said receipt or receipts attached to said sworn statement and filed with 3 the Governor. The Governor shall have the authority, upon investigation, to increase or 4 decrease any item or expenses shown in said sworn statement, or to include items of 5 expenses omitted by mistake or inadvertence. The decision or determination of the 6 Governor as to the correct amount to be paid for such expenses or reimbursements shall 7 be final. When it is deemed necessary for more than one agent, extradition agent, fugitive 8 officer or person, to be designated to return a fugitive from another state to this State, the 9 district attorney or prosecuting officer shall file with his written application to the 10 Governor of this State an affidavit setting forth in detail the grounds or reasons why it is

12 designated. Among other things, and not by way of limitation, the affidavit shall set forth 13 whether or not the alleged fugitive is a dangerous person, his previous criminal record if 14 any, and any record of said fugitive on file with the Federal Bureau of Investigation or 15 with the prison authorities of this State. As a further ground or reason for more than one 16 extradition agent or fugitive officer to be designated, it may be shown in said affidavit the 17 number of fugitives to be returned to this State and any other grounds or reasons for 18 which more than one extradition agent or fugitive officer is desired. If the Governor finds 19 or determines from his own investigation and from the information made available to him
20 that more than one extradition agent or fugitive officer is necessary for the return of a 21 fugitive or fugitives to this State, he may designate more than one extradition agent or 22 fugitive officer for such purpose. All travel for which expenses or reimbursements are 23 paid or allowed under this section shall be by the nearest, direct, convenient route of 24 travel. If the extradition agent or agents or person or persons designated to return a 25 fugitive or fugitives from another state to this State shall elect to travel by automobile, a 26 sum not exceeding seven cents (7¢) per mile may be allowed in lieu of all travel expense,

33 the duties, powers and responsibilities conferred upon the Governor. Provided that if the 34 fugitive from justice is ~~an alleged felon, and he be~~ returned without the service of 35 extradition papers by the sheriff or the agent of the sheriff of the county in which the 36 ~~felony crime~~ was alleged to have been committed, the expense of ~~said the~~ return shall be 37 borne by the State of North Carolina under the rules and regulations made and 38 promulgated by the Governor of North Carolina or the executive agent or the executive 39 clerk to whom the said Governor may have delegated his duties under this section."
